

Seeking prostate cancer patients and survivors for an online study

You are invited to participate in a study being conducted under the supervision of Dr. Caroline Pukall in the Sexual Health Research Laboratory (SexLab) at Queen's University. The SexLab is dedicated to understanding human sexuality and sexual health.

If you would like to learn more about the SexLab and the research we do, please visit our website: www.sexlab.ca.

You are also more than welcome to ask us any questions you may have about our research by contacting myself or our research associate, Shannon Coyle (sex.lab@queensu.ca). The following provides a brief description of the study.

HAVE YOU BEEN DIAGNOSED WITH PROSTATE CANCER?

Seeking prostate cancer patients and survivors for an online study

PARTICIPANT CRITERIA

- Diagnosed with non-metastatic prostate cancer within the past 5 years
- No other cancer diagnosis
- 18 years of age or older
- Fluent in English
- Access to the Internet

• STUDY PROCEDURES

- Online questionnaires about diagnosis and treatment history, sexual functioning, sexual and relationship satisfaction, mental and physical wellbeing, and healthcare experiences
- Participation will take 60 to 90 minutes

~Prize Draws Available~

INTERESTED?

Access the survey: <https://tinyurl.com/SexLabPCa>

For more information, please contact the

Sexual Health Research Laboratory

1.613.533.3276 | sex.lab@queensu.ca

Investigators: Meghan McInnis, BScH; Caroline Pukall, PhD; Michael Brundage, MSc, MD, FRCPC; Deb Feldman-Stewart, PhD; Robert Siemens, MD, FRCSC; and Christine Tong, MA

This study is funded by a Prostate Cancer Canada Movember Discovery Grant

